

NEW CHURCH PROJECT FOR THE CONGREGATION “IGLESIA DEL BANQUETTE” VIZCAINO, BAJA SUR, MEXICO

The Vizcaino Ministry is located approximately 610 miles south of Placentia in the center of the Baja Peninsula in Vizcaino in the Mexican State of Baja California Sur. The ministry reaches out to the very poor who work the commercial farms located in this desert area. Bruno Rendón Lopez serves as pastor for the little church called “Puerta del Cielo” meaning gate of heaven (Gen 28:17).

Bruno is assisted by three men who were led to the Lord through this ministry. Because of Bruno’s and his family’s faithfulness and their personal sacrifices God continues to grow this little church with new members. At the end of Year 2010 they had 80 members and approximately 100 people and 60 children who regularly attend services overflowing their existing church building. There are three services a week, a Sunday School and additional Bible teachings at local ranches two days a week. Some of the people come from Rancho Piloto the former location of this ministry, some from other nearby ranches and some from the Vizcaino pueblo where the church is now located. Approximately 240 people accepted Jesus into their heart this past year through this ministry this past year.

NEW CHURCH PROJECT

The existing church building is constructed of corrugated metal and wooden members. It was originally constructed in Rancho Piloto, a private commercial farm owned by a Mexican National. It was dismantled and reconstructed in the pueblo of Vizcaino. Termites have eaten away at some of the supporting members. Additionally worshipping inside this little church from May through September is extremely uncomfortable because of the desert heat. It becomes an oven.

PPC's Men's group is partnering with the local congregation to construct the new church with the local church supplying the labor and some of the materials. PPC advanced the funds for the construction of the walls. The estimated cost to install the doors, windows, and roof is approximately $60,000 dollars. PPC Men's group is exploring funding sources to finish construction.
